S.B. No. 910—Hurtado et al.
An act relating to tribal gaming, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 910, as it passed the Senate, extended from 30 days to 60 days certain time periods applicable to the denial, or approval with limits, as specified, of a state gambling license, key employee license, work permit, or finding of suitability by the California Gambling Control Commission.

The Assembly amendments, instead, ratify the tribal-state gaming compact entered into between the State of California and the Tejon Indian Tribe and provide that, in deference to tribal sovereignty, certain actions related to these compacts are not projects for purposes of the California Environmental Quality Act. The Assembly amendments declare that the measure is to take effect immediately as an urgency statute.

75

S.B. No. 218—Jones et al.

An act relating to corporations.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 218, as it passed the Senate, authorized otherwise lawful corporate actions not in compliance, or purportedly not in compliance, with the General Corporation Law or the articles, bylaws, or a plan or agreement to which the corporation is a party in effect at the time of a corporate action, to be ratified, or validated by the superior court, in conformity with certain procedures.

The Assembly amendments prohibit these procedures from being used to ratify or validate specified corporate actions. The amendments also require the corporation to retain all records related to the ratification or validation of a corporate action under the bill's provisions in accordance with specified law.

SB 218, as it passed the Senate, authorized specified persons to file a petition in the superior court to determine the validity of the corporate action, as specified.

The Assembly amendments require the above-described petition to identify every pending legal proceeding of which the petitioner is aware and in which the validity of the corporate action is being directly challenged or the validation of the corporate action would result in the dismissal of the proceeding in whole or in part, as specified. The Assembly amendments require the petitioner to amend or move for leave to amend the petition if the petitioner becomes aware of any additional legal proceeding that meets these requirements, as specified.

The Assembly amendments further require a corporation that is a party to a pending legal proceeding in which the validity of a corporate action sought to be ratified or validated pursuant to the bill's provisions is at issue or the ratification or validation of a corporation action would result in the dismissal in whole or in part to notify the judge, arbitrator, or other person presiding over the proceeding at least 10 court days prior to adopting specified resolutions or filing a specified petition, and authorize the person presiding over the proceeding to stay the ratification or validation as justice and equity may require.

2022

Jun. 30—In Senate. Concurrence in Assembly amendments pending.

76

S.B. No. 633—Limón.

An act relating to contracts.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 633, as it passed the Senate, required a specified notice to be delivered to a person who will sign a contract, but who will not receive the goods, services, money, or other subject of the contract if that person is not proficient in English, Spanish, Chinese, Tagalog, Vietnamese, or Korean, by the party who is a person engaged in a trade or business before execution of the contract and on a separate page immediately preceding the contract or agreement.

The Assembly amendments would strike the contents of the bill as it passed the Senate and would instead require certain notices in English and Spanish that existing law requires to be delivered by a creditor or vehicle lessor, as specified, to specified persons prior to those persons becoming obligated on a contract to be provided to those persons regardless of whether the persons are married to each other and would expand the languages into which the notices are required to be translated. The Assembly amendments would also require the Department of Financial Protection and Innovation to make translations of the notices available in the required languages on its internet website by January 1, 2023, and would require additional translations of any languages subsequently added to state law.

Jun. 30—In Senate. Concurrence in Assembly amendments pending.

77

S.B. No. 731—Durazo et al.

An act relating to criminal records.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 731, as it passed the Senate, extended authorization for a defendant to petition to withdraw their plea of guilty or nolo contendere and enter a plea of not guilty after the completion of their sentence to a defendant who has been convicted of any felony. SB 731, as it passed the Senate, generally made arrest record relief available to a person who has been arrested for a felony and made conviction record relief available for a person convicted of a felony for which they did not complete probation without revocation if certain requirements are met.

The Assembly amendments exclude a defendant convicted of an offense that requires registration as a sex offender from the above-described authorization to petition to withdraw their plea, prohibit a record of a conviction for possession of specified controlled substances that is more than 5 years old and for which relief was granted from being used to deny a teaching or services credential by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing or from being presented to the Committee of Credentials, and require the Department of Justice to provide state summary criminal history information to certain entities including school districts and prohibit the department from disseminating information for a conviction for possession of specified controlled substances if that conviction is more than 5 years old and relief has been granted.

S.B. No. 1096—Limón.

An act relating to courts.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 1096, as it passed the Senate, prohibited a defendant's request for an ability-to-pay determination as part of an online tool developed by the Judicial Council for adjudicating infraction violations from impacting their eligibility to attend traffic violator school and specified that a court is not precluded from ordering or permitting a defendant to participate in traffic violator school if the defendant elects to use the online tool for adjudicating infraction violations.

The Assembly amendments instead prohibit a defendant's request for an ability-to-pay determination made through the online tool from impacting their eligibility to attend traffic violator school and remove the provisions specifying that a court is not precluded from ordering or permitting a defendant to participate in traffic violator school if they elect to use the online tool.

S.B. No. 1268—Caballero et al.

An act relating to victims of crime.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 1268, as it passed the Senate, required a law enforcement agency that is investigating the death of a minor to provide the minor’s parent or guardian, or the victim’s immediate family if the parent or guardian is not located, with specified information relating to the investigation, including the name and contact information of the investigating officers. SB 1268, as it passed the Senate, authorized a law enforcement agency providing this information to require any family member receiving the information to confirm their identity through a declaration delivered under penalty of perjury, violation of which is a felony punishable in a county jail.

The Assembly amendments, instead, authorize the law enforcement agency providing the information to require the family member to confirm their identity through a certified declaration. The Assembly amendments make it an infraction to knowingly and willingly make a false certification.

The Assembly amendments extend the operation of this authorization until January 1, 2028, include the City of Los Angeles within the program authorization, and require all local jurisdictions that choose to participate in the overdose prevention program to conduct a peer-reviewed study on the efficacy and community impacts of the programs.
